The image shows a modern, multi-story apartment building with a light beige facade and dark-framed windows. The building has a series of balconies with glass railings. In the foreground, there is a large, clear blue swimming pool. To the left of the pool, there are two small, conical structures made of light-colored wood slats, each containing a small tree. To the right, there is a larger, curved structure made of similar wood slats, also containing a tree. The grounds are landscaped with various green plants and trees. The sky is blue with some white clouds.
